Aaku means Leaf in Telugu (my native language).

The pattern was inspired by the leaves blowing in the icy winter winds. The pattern itself isn't upright, but slightly tilted, as every leaf is in the wind.

4mm/G hook

Notions

Blocking pins, tapestry needle to weave in ends

Abbreviations

Please see our standard abbreviations.

edc: extended dc

fp-edc: front post edc

Dc inc: 2 dc in same stitch

(Dc, fp-edc, dc) tog: Work just like a dc3tog, but the edc will be worked just until the “yo hook, pull up loop, CH1, yo hook and pull through 2 loops”. When you’re ready to do the tog part you’ll have 4 loops on your hook (1 from the CH, 1 from the first DC, 1 from the edc and 1 from the last DC).

Pattern Notes

- The starting hdc/dc of each row is made with ch2/ch3.
- Slip last stitch of each round to first stich of each round.
- For rows starting with dc2tog: ch2, dc in next stitch.

About the Designer: Mugdha Manassa

Manasa learned to knit as a kid, but quit soon to focus on formal education. She worked in a corporate career before opting to be a homemaker.

Recently she has found her focus back on knitting, crochet and needlecrafts, and hasn't looked back since then.

Most of her designs are geared towards beginners and many will find that her patterns are easy to knit.
